ART FAIR SET FOR THIS WEEKEND IN MEMORIAL PARK

FRIENDS, EXHIBITORS DISCUSS UPCOMING FAIR — Howard Wagner, who with his wife Jill has been associated with the art fair for years, discusses the art fair scheduled for this weekend, May 17 and 18, at Memorial Park. Also shown are Ellen Davidson, ceramicist, and Suellen Begley, watercolorist. Both women are exhibiting and selling their works this weekend at the fair sponsored by Friends of the Sierra Madre Library.

It's art fair time this weekend

By Phyllis Chapman

It's "Fair" Time! On May 17 and 18, and for the 24th year, the Friends of the Sierra Madre Library will roll out the welcome to their annual extravaganza — the Art Fair.

Famed throughout the areas the "last real art fair," it will offer over 130 quality artists who represent a wide spectrum of fine arts and crafts and who will be on hand to display, demonstrate and sell their work.

This all takes place in the beautiful setting of a transformed Memorial Park, from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day, Saturday and Sunday, and provides admission-free family fun. Under the direction of Tensie Benson and Heather Sheets, there will be crafty activity for children and also a playground area that is supervised.

The Fair does more than get your artistic taste buds going. It also provides a wide variety of delicious foods from around the world, much of it prepared on the spot and so very affordable. This makes it a gourmet's dream place.

Then, too, there is the everyday kind of fare on sale at the Rose Float booth along with those

Council initiates work to replace older water mains

With $410,589 in the balance of the Water Bond Construction Fund, the Sierra Madre City Council Tuesday evening asked for bids for the installation of water mains in five sections of the city. They hope to have plans and specs by July 1.

They have already authorized installing 1350 ft. of 8-in. water main on Laurel Ave. from Baldwin to Mountian Trail Ave.; installing 1225 ft. of 8-in. main on Alegria Ave. from Baldwin to Mountain Trail; and installing 975 ft. of 6-in. water main on Sturtevant Drive from Canon Dr. to Oakdale.

Tuesday evening they added installation of 2500 ft. of 8-in. water main on Mariposa Ave. from Michillinda Ave. to Lima and installing an 8-in. line as a parallel line to the Carter Ave. line. That line is the sole source for the westerly portion of that zone and will start at Auburn and Olive and proceed southerly to Grandview, then west on Grandview to Sierra Woods. The length of the main is 3050 ft.

The approximate cost of all this work is nearly $461,175.

Councilman Sam Simpson expressed his concern about the faulty water lines in Sierra Madre at the last council meeting.

On page 4 is a map with dates water lines in Sierra Madre were originally laid marked in by Sam Simpson. His figures are cross referenced with those of the city engineer, George Zimmerman.

With the sale of Group W Cable, Inc. to a consortium of buyers comprising Daniels & Associatres, the council approved the final transfer of the resolution that obligates the new company to honor Group W's agreements with Sierra Madre.

General Manager Joe Biolsi introduced Brett Miller, senior acquisition analyst from Daniels headquarters in Denver, who stressed their continuing to place customer service at the top of priorities.

Miller said that system is the 23rd largest cable system in the U.S. with 300,000 subscribers nationwide.

Mayor Lisa Fowler announced that Herb Neubig would complete the term of City Councilman Bruce Crow on the Library Board of Trustees.

She also appointed the following liaisons to city groups: Councilman Sam Simpson as liaison to the Library Board of Trustees; Crow to Parks and Recreation Commission; Councilman Clem

Murder trial for Johnson starts July 28

The murder trial for Vernon Vilroy Johnson, Sierra Madre, has been continued to July 28, according to Susan Wondries, deputy district attorney.

Johnson was charged with the murder of his wife, Betty Florence Johnson, whose body was found mid-June last year in the street a block from the Johnson home on Valle Vista Dr.

Johnson has been out on $50,000 bail. The trail will be held in Superior Court in Pasadena.

Results of the autopsy revealed that Mrs. Johnson had died of a gunshot wound to her head.

The Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team found the possible murder weapon down the cliff behind the Johnson home.

Maurer retires from fire department

The familiar city ambulance will no longer be parked outside the Sierra Madre News.

George Maurer, Sierra Madre Fire Dept. captain and Emergency Medical Technician, has retired from the fire department although he remains an employee of The News.

Maurer will be honored at a roast Thursday, May 29, by the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce at their mixer at Imperial Savings and Loan, Sierra Madre Blvd. and Kersting Court.

His retirement completes 30 years with the fire service, 19 here in Sierra Madre and 11 in Burlington, N.J., his hometown.

The local fire department Saturday hosted a retirement party for Maurer and for Capt. John Buchan who also retired from the fire department recently. More information on Buchan will appear in next week's edition of The News.

Maurer's father, a Linotypist and newspaper editor, taught his son the trade and George worked on three newspapers in New Jersey before he migrated to California. He was a Fireman 1st Class in the Navy during WWII.

He came to California in 1961 and moved to Sierra Madre in 1962. In January, 1967, Maurer became a member of the fire department. He joined the Sierra Madre News in March of 1962 as a Linotype operator and remained with The News when Jan Reed purchased the paper nearly six years ago.

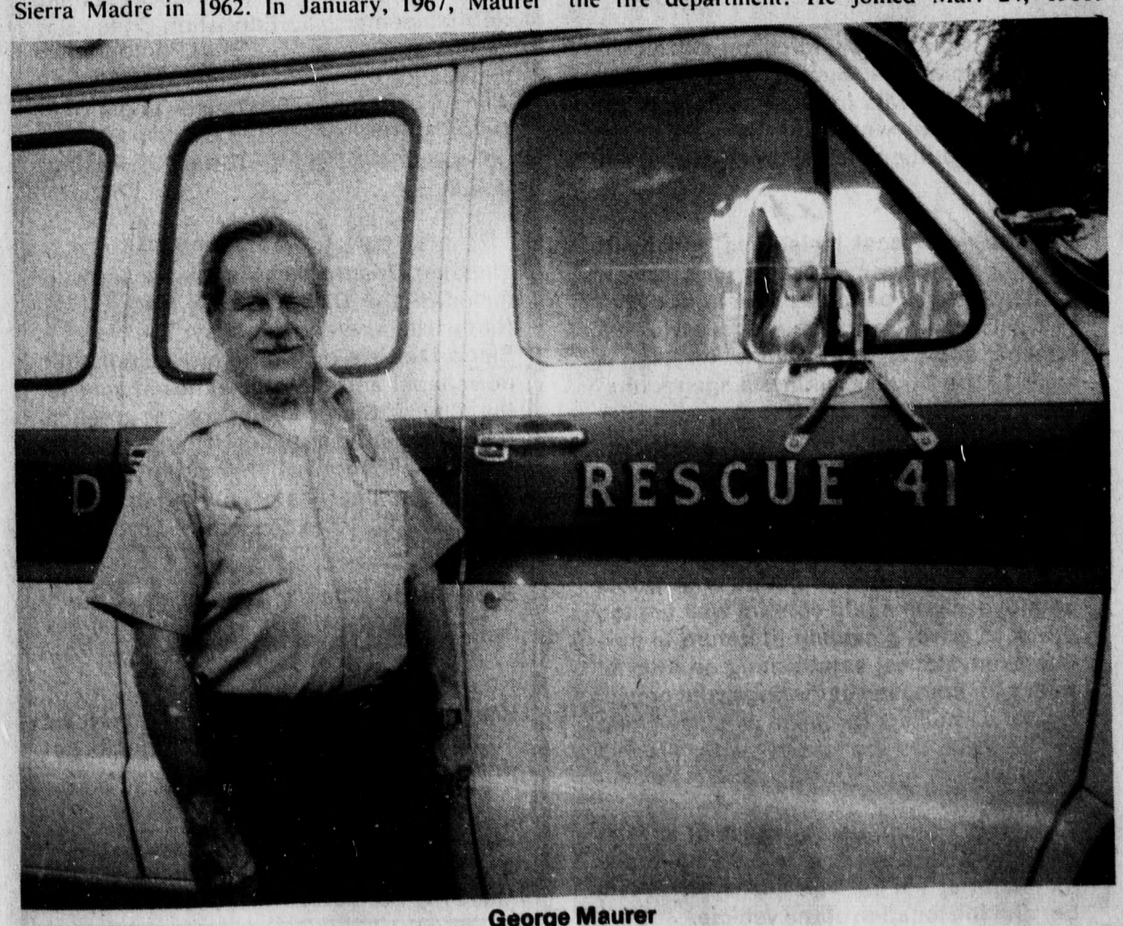

At that time, he became printing foreman for the job printing shop and continued as Linotype operator as well as typesetter on the computer typesetter. He continues at The News in that role.

Maurer has been an emergency medical technician since 1973 after six months of training. He manned the ambulance on 24-hour duty almost all of that time since.

He estimates that he has treated about 6000 people, either assisting them medically on the spot or treating them and transporting them to area hospitals.

He and his wife, Mary have four children: Linda Heaton and Mikki Porretta of Sierra Madre; twin sons, George, of Covina, is a medical officer at Frontera Prison, and William who is a captain of the fire department at Twentynine Palms.

John Buchan retired in his 25th year with the fire department. He joined Mar. 24, 1961.

● Our dear friend, Bernie Lange, is in Huntington Hospital in intensive care following surgery Saturday. Think of her . . . And later, when she is better, please send her your love in flowers and cards.

● Donna Morin made 12 miles in three hours for the March of Dimes walkathon last week. Were her feet the worst for wear? No, and she had no blisters.

● City Councilman Clem Bartolai had another close call on his bicycle. Actually, it was off his bicycle. He had started a 100-mile tour and was about 18 miles out of Agoura Hills at Potrero Canyon when he hit a small rock and punctured a tire. He pulled over to the side of the road behind the guard rail, placed the bicycle on top of the rail and began work. Moments later, another cycler lost control, banged into the guardrail and the bicycle. There will be no racing on the bike for two weeks or until Clem gets a new frame.

Ramming into Clem's bike actually cushioned the blow for the other cycler and probably saved him severe injury as he finally pulled to a halt. On down the hill three other participants in the tour broke collar bones after descending too fast.

Clem borrowed a bike later, and he and Nina participated in a tour to benefit the American Heart Association.Clem went 60 miles and Nina, 30 miles.

'Mailbox Week' May 19 - 24

It's time for all of us to do something about our mailboxes during "Mailbox Improvement Week" May 19-24.

Postmaster Joyce Steele of Sierra Madre says, "The purpose is to call attention to the need to provide mail receptacles that are conveniently located, safe to use, neat in appearance and are designed to protect the mail from the weather. Say that an old, dented box has sharp, cutting edges or that the receptacle is too small, too hard to reach or made inaccessible by obstructions. In such cases, the mail would be stamped undeliverable and the customer would have to come to the post office to pick it up. We need cooperation of our customers to maintain service at its highest level."

Customers are requested to remove obstructions including vehicles, trash cans and other objects that make delivery difficult. For both suburban curbline and rural roadside boxes, the Postal Service requests a height of 3½ to 4 ft. from the bottom of the box to ground level. The address should be clearly printed on the receptacle to assure more efficient delivery.

There are approved traditional and contemporary mailbox designs. A customer-designed rural box needs the prior approval of the postmaster before it can be installed.

Steele presents one last safety caution from the Postal Service: some mailbox supports are so massive that they are damaging vehicles and causing serious injuries to people who accidently strike them. The Federal Highway Administration has suggested mailbox mounting and support designs that post offices will share with their customers.

We're getting a new mailbox next week. Why don't you join us?

Make a difference. Don't drive, drunk.

More than 46,000 men, women and children died on our nation's roadways last year. More than half of those deaths occurred because someone chose to drink and drive.

Drunk driving has become an epidemic, but you can help to end it. By taking a few simple steps, you can help protect your family, friends and neighbors from the tragedy caused by drunk drivers.

The steps include:

1. When you go out with friends, select a designated driver — one person who will not drink and will be responsible for driving others home safely.

2. Wear your seat belt and ask your passengers to do likewise. Seat belts are one of the best protections against drunk drivers. They give you a 50% better chance of avoiding serious injury and death in an accident.

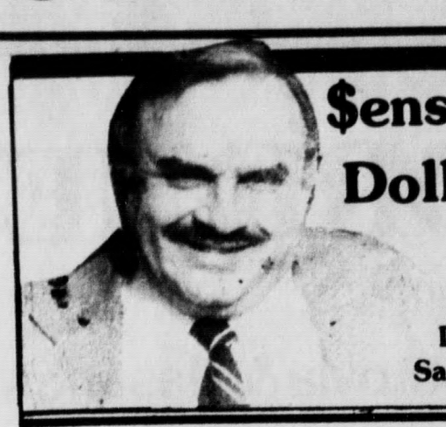

3. Join an active anti-drunk driving organization such as Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD), Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD) or Remove Intoxicated Drivers (RID). These groups help raise awareness of the drunk driving problem.

4. Join a local task force or citizen advisory committee. Such groups bring together individuals from all sectors of the community to work side by side in developing solutions to the drunk driving epidemic.

5. Write your local legislators and court officials. Let them know you consider drunk driving a serious problem and that you will be tracking their legislative responses and legal decisions on issues such as the 21-year minimum age requirement for purchasing alcohol and stiffer penalties for drunk driving.

6. Suggest that your employer start a company program to curb drunk driving. Such efforts could include company-paid taxi rides for employees or others with whom employees come into contact who are too drunk to drive; providing literature in paycheck envelopes; establishing an alcohol policy for company gatherings; and providing resource lists for those who seek help for themselves or others with alcohol problems.

7. Report anyone you suspect of driving drunk to police. Be sure to note the make and color of the car, the license tag number and the location of the vehicle.

With the media: a TV network news show reported just before Apr. 15, that the IRS informed a taxpayer that the reason his refund had not yet come was that he was "deceased."

The Ohio taxpayer wrote a strong note back to the IRS, explaining that reports of his death were "greatly exaggerated," as Mark Twain said, and that he was very much alive and still wanted his tax refund.

The IRS then sent him another letter: they said he could not still be alive, since their records said he was not. And they sent along a form for him to fill out and sign verifying that he was indeed deceased.

It's art fair time; see you all there

I am writing this letter to all of you wonderful people in the Sierra Madre area because I want to take this opportunity to welcome you, in advance, to the 24th Annual Art Fair which is being held May 17 and 18 in Memorial Park, Sierra Madre.

Sponsored by the Friends of the Sierra Madre Library, the Art Fair, as well as other similar events throughout the year, helps to generate needed revenue for our library. Your support and encouragement in the past has been most gratefully received by all concerned.

I want to encourage you now, to plan to attend this year's fair — and to bring a friend or two with you. Come enjoy the art, come enjoy the food, come and enjoy the company of your friends and neighbors who you will meet in the park.

At the last meeting of the art fair committee, and with the full support of the Friends of the Library board, it was unanimously voted to dedicate this year's art fair to the memory of Kevin Paul, a young man who always found time to help us when we needed it. It is dedicated, too, to the spirit of all the young men and women who give of their time and energy each year to assist us with the fair. God bless them all!

One last thought. As this year's chairman of the art fair, I have had an opportunity to step into a real whirlwind of activity. Frequently, I have found myself "wobbling" a bit in the maelstrom only to find a steadying hand from a person named Barbara, or Howard, or Mary, or Jil, or Phyllis, supportive friends without whom I doubt I would have survived and to whom I am most sincerely grateful.

See you at the art fair.

Lawrence D. Weiss

Thanks to schools, teachers, leaders

On behalf of the California School Boards Association, I would like to express our appreciation to all classroom teachers and classified employees in schools throughout California.

Our schools would not run if we did not have committed classified employees caring for our schools and the students attending them. Our children would not receive a quality education if we did not have dedicated teachers teaching in our schools. Too often the focus is on the need for more teachers, without enough emphasis placed on the quality teachers already in our schools. Or focus is placed on the maintenance and service not received due to cutbacks, instead of on the high level of maintenance and service provided by classified employees despite cutbacks. Classroom teachers and classified employees are the backbone of our schools.

In this age of negative news, we feel it is important to praise and spotlight these individuals who provide a positive force in our society. Local schools are eager to share with the community and the media their particular events honoring teachers and classified employees. The California School Boards Association hopes that you will help to spread the positive news by covering the special events in your local schools honoring teachers and classified employees, in conjunction with the "Day of the Teacher" on May 14 and "Classified Employees Week" which is the third week in May.

Joe Duardo
President
California School Boards Association

Agrees with C. Re'ser

Catherine Reiser — I salute you! Your recent letter to the City Council in the Sierra Madre News was outstanding. Were I to get on my soap box regarding the violations of city code that are permitted, or shall I say overlooked by the city of Sierra Madre, I would probably need to print it all — the entire Sierra Madre News.

In this letter then, I will confine my remarks to, as you so aptly put it, Catherine, "Overtime on garbage cans in parkways." In the coming week or so, I shall expound on illegal parking, but for now, "trash cans." City Council members, take heed, for one of your obligations to the city of Sierra Madre is to see that the city code is enforced.

Why does much of our beloved town of Sierra Madre have to look like "Poverty Flats" in regard to trash can violations? Frankly, I doubt if the majority of persons doing so are aware of the fact that they are breaking the law. I wonder how many violators are aware of the fact that Sierra Madre City Ordinance #4607 states (condensed); that no person shall put out their trash receptacle for collection before 4 p.m. the day before it is to be collected or permit such receptacle to remain out for more than 12 hours after they have been emptied.

I wonder how many violators are aware of Municiple Code #9253 (b), which states (condensed) that no trash container other than at the hours of collection shall be visible from a front or side street. This includes front yards, side yards, or even back yards if visible from the street. I would wager that ⅓ of the houses in Sierra Madre are in violation of this ordinance. In the upper canyon, there are two homes, side by side, that have constructed slabs right next to the curb to house the trash cans. These trash cans are never removed from their pads so are always on the street. Can you imagine this in Arcadia or San Marino?

Ordinance #4610 states that receptacles shall have a "Fly-Tight Lid," if any garbage is placed in said receptacle. There is always garbage of some kind, so, no matter how small, this ordinance refers to all trash receptacles. So likewise, refuse must be placed in a container of adequate construction to bear the weight of the trash. This ordinance, of course, would mean that no plastic trash bags can be used unless placed in a receptacle. How many times have we seen trash bags torn apart by dogs or coons and the contents spread all over.

I am sure that violators of the above codes are not aware of the fact that substantial fines accompany a citation if not rectified within a specified time. Were Sierra Madre to make an example in citing and fining a few violators, I am sure that in no time at all there would be few trash can violations, particularly those that store their trash cans in such a manner that they can be viewed from the street.

Forget the revenue the city would derive from these fines. They apparently don't need it.

Robert W. Jones

Thanks to The News

On behalf of the Sierra Madre Athletic Association, I would like to take this opportunity to extend to you and your staff our heartfelt thanks for the good work that you have done for us in the past. Your cooperation in designing and printing our opening day programs so beautifully and at such a minimal charge is greatly appreciated.

It is this spirit of community unity that makes Sierra Madre such a great place to live and work. Certainly your paper and its efforts on behalf of all our citizens plays a big part in making it so.

Enjoys reading The News

I really enjoy the Sierra Madre News. I like to read "In the Attic." I'm the oldest daughter, Lenora, of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Osti Sr., of course, who are no longer with us. But I do enjoy reading about the old timers who are still going on. We came to Sierra Madre in 1925 from San Pedro, Calif. Here is my $14 for another year.

Bartolai to Planning Commission; Simpson to Sierra Madre Commission on Aging, Inc.; Crow to City Beautification Committee; Bartolai to Parking Committee and Councilman Andrew Roy Buchan to the Crime Prevention Committee. Fowler annouced she would reactivate both of the last-named committees.

Other liaison appointments follow: Crow to the City Yards Committee; Buchan to the Cultural Heritage Commission; Bartolai to the Sierra Madre/Group W Foundation; Buchan to the Fire Dept.; Mayor Fowler to the Police Dept.; Crow to the Finance Dept. and Simpson to the Public Works Dept. The Mayor will be delegate to League of California Cities; Bartolai will be delegate to Independent Cities Association; Simpson, San Gabriel Valley Association of Cities.

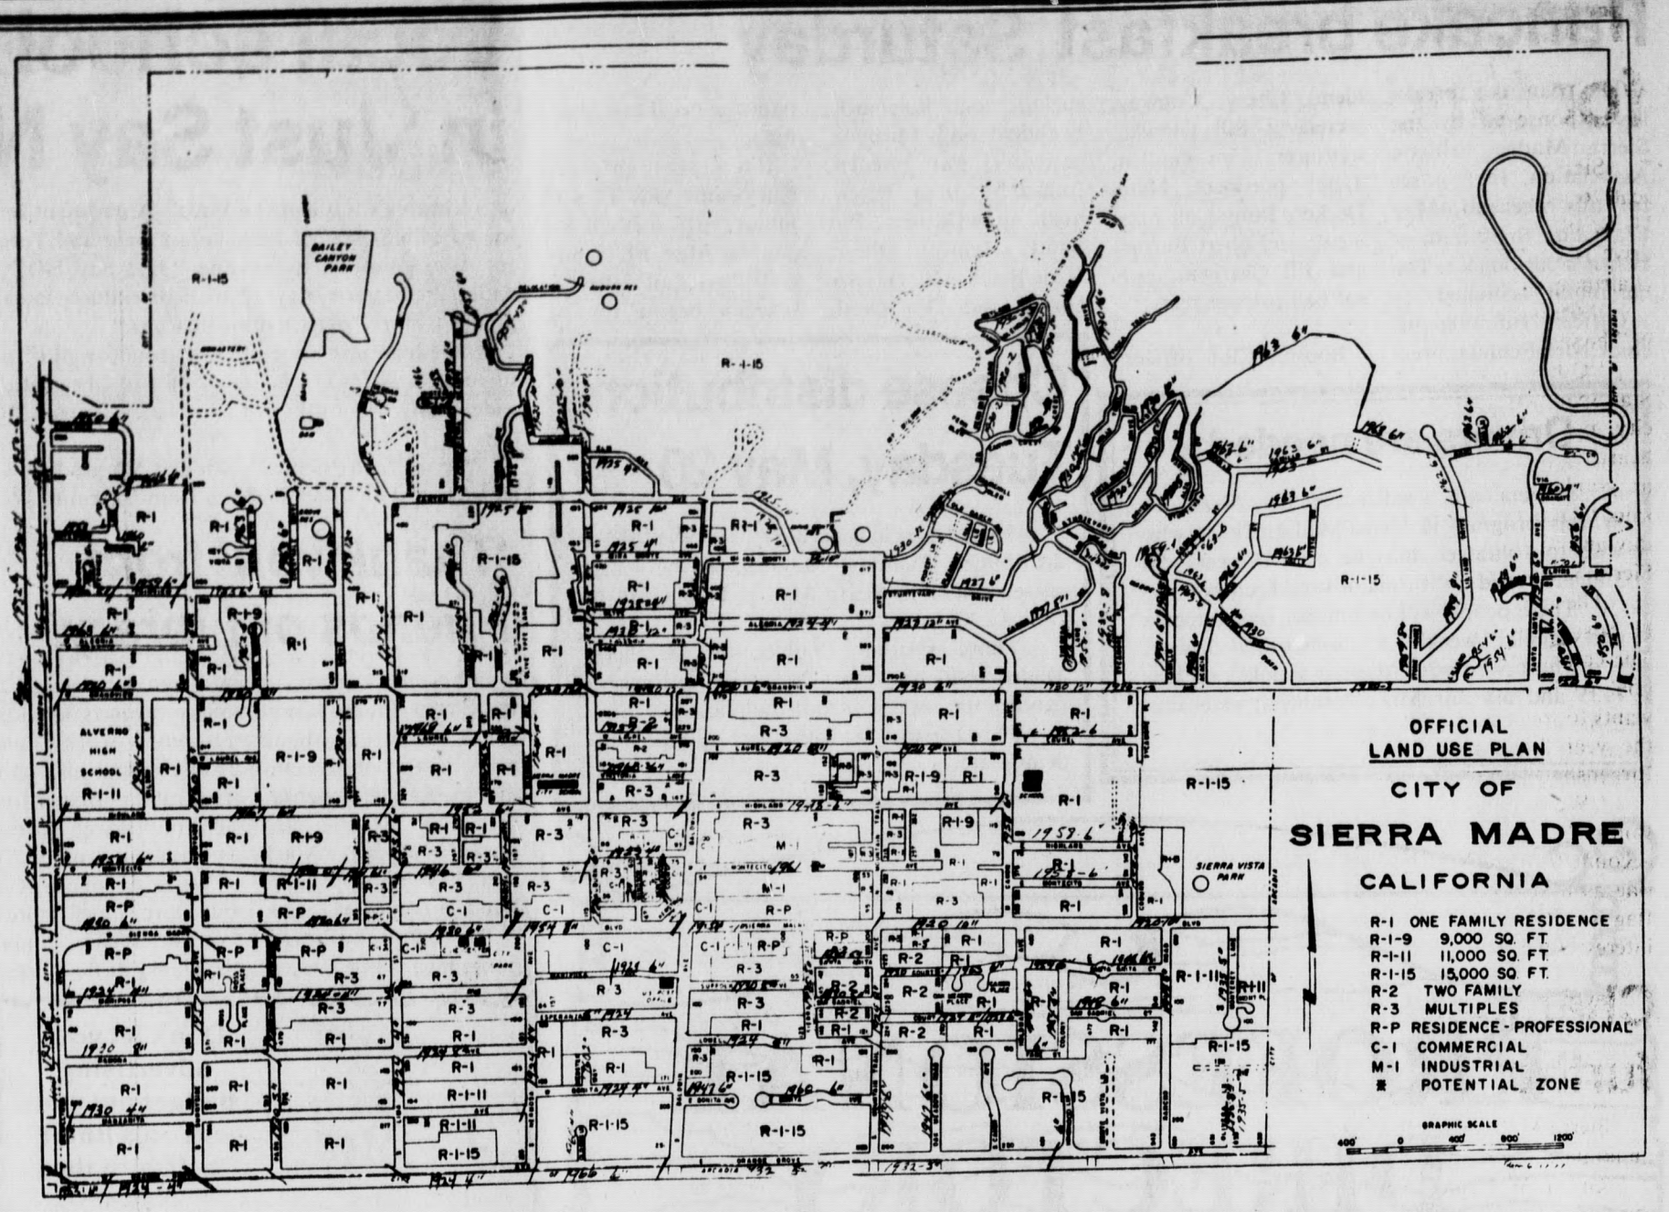

Fowler will represent the council at the Los Angeles County Sanitation District #15; Buchan to Project D.A.Y.; and Upper San Gabriel Valley Water District; Simpson to the Raymond Basin Management Board; Fowler to the Coachella Valley Joint Powers Insurance Authority, and Crow to Foothill Area Community Services.

The council put their stamp of approval on four expenditures: pine tree removal on Wilson Ave. to curb the spread of beetle damage, from undesignated general fund, $2325; repairs and overhaul of the well and pump #5, appropriation from the water fund, $33,556; an air compressor in the police and fire facility, appropriation from undesignated general fund, $1580; and transmission of engine #42, from undesignated general fund, $4000. The last is the result of operator error or judgment.

Western Waste Industries has asked for a 12½% increase and a public hearing has been set for June 10.

COUNCILMAN SIMPSON'S MAP SHOWS MAIN DATES — Councilman Sam Simpson provided the Sierra Madre City Council and the Sierra Madre News with a city map on which he had dated all the water mains in town. Note the dates and realize that it is time for action, action the new council has taken recently.

Lines from the Library

You (or someone you know) may qualify for another wonderful service provided by the Sierra Madre Public Library. Maybe you are unable to read standard print in books or magazines. Possibly a physical handicap prevents your using reading materials. Perhaps you have a reading disability, even a temporary one.

In all of the above instances, you would be eligible to select "talking book" records, tapes, record players and cassette players — loaned without charge at the Sierra Madre Library, a depository for The Braille Institute of Los Angeles.

All you have to do to qualify for these services is to come to the city's library for an application to fill out and have certified by a competent authority. When the form is complete, return it to the library and select, free-of-charge, the recorded material and equipment desired. Also available are pillow phones for those in bed and headphones with volume adjustments for each ear.

Qualified patrons cannot only borrow such items locally, but — at the same time — they can order directly from The Braille Institute which mails recorded materials directly to your home without charge. Catalogs are avilable from the institute to help with selection. Children's books, encyclopedias, California history, literature in Spanish, French, German, Portuguese and Italian are only part of the abundant variety recorded in talking book form.

'Flags forever' is theme for fund- and flag-raising

Sierra Madre won't ever have to take a back seat to any other community in the whole wide U. S. of A. when our Kersting Court Flag Fund drive is completed, according to Bill Birgensmith, chairman.

"We're No. 1 in patriotism, and we're proving it," he said.

"Other communities may have the very finest Star Spangled Banner waving over the heart of their city, but how many of them achieved it with the hearts of their citizens, giving, not as taxpayers, but as good old red-white-and-blue Americans?" he said. "That's going to be our very own flag up there, day and night, telling the world how we feel about Sierra Madre and America."

The committee started out with an idea of maybe raising enough for a three-year supply of flags. The contributions came in so fast they raised their goal to five years and it seems as if everybody wants to share in the patriotic endeavor, so now it is the year 2000 and, who knows, maybe forever, Birgensmith reported.

"We're getting in reach of that," said Birgensmith. "If you have enough funds in a savings account to bring sufficient interest to replace each flag as it is needed, you have forever. Maybe one flag won't last as long, or the price will go up, or interest rates will go down — or it could all go our way, too. Nobody has a crystal ball, but we can sure aim at forever, and Sierra Madre is doing just that."

Additional donors whose names have been added to the "Honor Roll of Patriots" include Nina and Clem Bartolai, Dorothy and George Beardshear, Berge's of La Canada, Marguerite and James Bowman, Brooks Landscaping, Florence and Norman Brooks, Troy Clarke, Delahooke and Associates, Lisa Fowler.

Also Gem Plumbing, Barbara and Joe Godley, Gretchen and Homer Hendrix, Ruth Herzberg, Kathryn Kent, Charity and David Kirkpatrick, Alice O'Grady, Linda and Harold Osterman, Susan Quinn, Renaissance Plaza Antiques, Verna and Walt Richter, Roberta and Frank Ross, Sierra Madre Beautification Committee, Harold Spears, Marjorie Steiner, Marilyn and Randy Stoke, Nancy and George Throop, Mary Tumilty and Your Color.

The final Honor Roll will be published in the Fourth of July edition of The News and exhibited at the July 4 Flag Dedication Ceremony.

Contributions should be made out to Kersting Court Flag Fund and mailed or delivered to Bill Birgensmith, c/o Union Station, 4 N. Baldwin Ave., Sierra Madre.

For further information, call Bill at the Union Station, 355-3337, or Jan Maddox, 355-0768.

KIWANIS CLUB PREPARED SCHOOL GROUNDS — Kiwanis Club of Sierra Madre has been preparing a plot of barren ground at Sierra Madre School for planting a camellia garden. Members including Police Chief Betts have completed the soil enrichment process and soon will be ready to plant on the plot of ground which has been barren for many years now. Shown are Doug Berkshire and Mario Cano, the latter Kiwanis president.

Chamber announces further July 4 plans

Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce this week announced more plans for the July 4 activities.

Group W Cable TV will pay for the band for the dance the evening of July 3. The name of the band will be announced later.

C.L.I.M.B. students will be honorary grand marshals at the parade and Woody Strode is grand marshal.

According to Donna Morin, chairman, there will be two categories of booths available at the park following the July 4 parade. Commercial booths, run by business people in Sierra Madre, are available for the first time this year. There will also be separate booths, sponsored by Chamber of Commerce members, at which games will be played.

The Model T Chords, a barbershop quartet, will furnish entertainment in the band shell between 2:30 and 3 p.m., July 4. The group consists of Larry Cohen, Walter Gersen, Marv Bos and Greg Price.

Ten booths and 12 trash barrels are being donated by Cal State L.A. student union, the latter to keep the park clean during the festivities.

As more information is available, The News will publish activities planned during the July 4 holiday.

Polish ashtrays

Spray furniture polish over hard-to-clean ashtrays, such as those made of silver or pewter, before using. The ashes dump out without sticking and leave no odor.

Radio-active bites

The first demonstration of radio transmission occurred in 1866. The sending and receiving stations were two kites, 14 miles apart.

Buddy Poppy Day slated for May 16, 17

May 16 and 17 will be "Buddy Poppy Days" here in Sierra Madre. The money from the sale of these poppies, made by disabled veterans, will go to provide comfort items to the men and women in the Veterans hospitals.

Buy a Poppy and wear it — your donation will help those who fought to preserve the freedom you enjoy today.

● Harvey Mendel is on the island of Kuaui, honeymooning for two weeks with his new bride. Chaperoning the couple are Harvey's daughter and son-in-law.

According to Marshall, Harvey's brother at Happy's Wines and Spirits, all four were evacuated from their beachside hotel when the earthquake hit the Aleutian Islands last week and there was fear of a tidal wave. However, after six hours, the incident was termed a false alarm and the local people were allowed to move back to their hotel.

● We find all sorts of wonderful things dropped through our door slot. One of them was a small piece of paper covered with license plates. I'll share a few of them each week: 4 MY CATH, 4 RIKNME, 4U NORA, R PEACE, XERCIS, AUDSOME (on an Audi), SALM 100, 2 STEELE, BLCK HWK, FLOS FOX (on another Audi Fox), IHI MUDR, LUV DALE, JUST 4 RO, GWHIZMA, PROVRB 3, BUY H20, 4ME PAPA, NO 1 TRTL, 4HMBRGRS.

● Have you seen Joe Delgatto Sr. recently? He's had his arm in a sling. A week before Easter he tripped over something in the cleaning establishment, Pantorium, and pulled some things out of whack in his arm.

He says he is doing much better since therapy. He and Mary were actually on their way to Chicago to visit relatives and friends but they didn't make it out that way yet this year. Joe, who is traditionally Santa Claus each year, says he guesses he had too much of Santa in 1985 . . .

● Harry and Pluma Martin were about to take off on a trip east when Harry fell in the backyard and broke a rib. He says it only hurts when he laughs . . . and he laughs a lot.

He is in The News at least once a week with a great joke and this week told us a joke about an Indian who was struck in the back with an arrow. The closest town was two weeks away across a desert. So the Indian struggled for two weeks, crawling on his hands and knees with an arrow sticking out of his back, to the nearest town. When he arrived there, the doctor shook his head and said to the Indian, "That must hurt a lot." The Indian answered, "It only hurts when I laugh."

How does a microwave turntable work?

Many couples will soon receive microwave ovens as gifts. And, when the oven does not have a built-in carousel to turn the food, a microwave turntable becomes a popular gift choice as an accessory. If you are new to your microwave, you may wonder just what a turntable does.

One sure thing it will do is save you time, and make your microwave even more convenient! You'll find that most microwave ovens have hot spots, places where the microwaves tend to predominate and food cooks faster.

A turntable lessens the effect of hot spots since it keeps the dish moving and evens out the cooking. It lessens the need to stir a dish, so the cook won't continually have to open the oven door, stir the dish and key the microwave oven to start once again.

With certain layered casseroles that would be upset if stirred, a turntable is especially helpful. Pizza and lasagna are examples.

While all microwave turntables operate on the principle of rotating the food to create more even distribution of the microwave energy and uniformity in cooking, Rubbermaid has just introduced a new turntable that adds another dimension.

Their new Dual-Action Turntable has a built-in mode stirrer, an interior reflector which redistributes the microwaves by creating a mode stirring effect in the oven. By both rotating the food and producing a more even microwave pattern, this dual action turntable helps promote uniform microwave cooking.

The Dual-Action Turntable is also easy to clean, easy to use and easy to store, and it even fits the newer compact microwave ovens (.4 cubic feet or larger). Considering all the advantages of the microwave turntable, it may not just be the new bride who will want one!

Baked goods and cakes promise better results when microwaved on a turntable. Try this recipe for an easy microwave dessert, developed for the Rubbermaid Dual-Action Microwave Turntable.

FOR MORE EVEN microwave cooking, this new turntable from Rubbermaid redistributes microwaves while rotating the food.

QUICK 'N' EASY DEEP DISH CHERRY PIE

- ½ box, prepared pie dough crust mix
- 2 1-pound cans pitted sour cherries, thoroughly drained
- ¾ sugar
- 3 tablespoons flour
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg

1. Prepare pie dough crust according to package directions. In a large bowl, combine drained cherries with remaining ingredients. Lightly butter a Rubbermaid 1 Qt. Frozen Food dish or 1 Qt. Casserole and turn cherry mixture into it.

2. Roll out pie dough crust and cut into lattice strips or heart shaped cut-outs. Weave lattice over top of cherries and press ends against sides of casserole. If using cut-outs, arrange on top of cherries. Sprinkle dough lightly with a mixture of cinnamon and sugar, for color.

3. Wind turntable according to directions in the Use & Care and place in the microwave. Place dish on turntable and push switch to "on" position. Microwave on High (100%) for 8 to 13 minutes. If pie begins to bubble over, reduce power to Medium-High (70%)*.

4. Remove from oven and let stand several minutes before serving. Serve warm over ice cream if desired.

Makes 6 servings.

*Placing a sheet of wax paper on the turntable will ease cleanup.

YOUTH IS WEIGHED AT HEALTH FAIR — As part of this year's Friends of the Sierra Madre Library Art Fair, this weekend, volunteers from Sierra Madre Community Health Care Center weigh and measure the public as a free service.

Health fair set for this weekend

The Auxiliary for Sierra Madre Health Care Center will hold their Ninth Annual Health Fair on May 17 and 18, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. This will be located at the northwest end of Memorial Park, near City Hall and is held in conjunction with the Friends of the Library art fair.

Good health and preventive medicine are the keynote of the fair and all testing offered is free. Among those participating will be Dr. Oron Kirkby, who will give eye examinations in the Eyemobile which will be parked at curbside in front of City Hall. This is provided by the Sierra Madre and Altadena Lions Club.

Civic Club will do hear screening inside City Hall, since a quiet location is required. Blood pressure testing will be done by the Emergency Medical Team, and auxiliary members will weigh participants and measure height in a booth near the northwest end of the park.

Dr. John Talevich of Heritage Family Health Service will have charts to demonstrate body alignment and will give blood tests for nutritional needs. Various information will be provided by the Visiting Nurses Association, American Red Cross and Hospice of Pasadena.

At last year's health fair over 1500 men, women and children took advantage of this two-day event.

delicious homemade pies baked each year by Rowena Wingate. The Historical Society will be dispensing their wonderful old-fashioned lemonade that people keep coming back for again and again. Also this year, they will sell homemade cookies. They will also be selling historical material for your mental digesting, as well as tickets to their May 20 annual dinner meeting.

The art fair T-shirt, designed by Jane Eason, will be sold in the park and are $8 each, available in men, women and children's sizes. Proceeds from their sale as well as the art fair go to support our local library.

Among the exhibitors again this year is Robert Marble who has become well known in Sierra Madre as the designer of our 1986 Rose Parade entry and for which we won the Princess Trophy. Marble's design was chosen for second time for the 1987 float.

Plan to spend your weekend at the fair, meeting friends and enjoying a feast for the eyes as well as the palate. It is also a great place to invite friends to come along and enjoy it all with you.

Tips, Tales & Tantalizers

I remember as a little girl, my mother telling me that she felt a draft coming into the house. Well, I didn't know what a draft was and my reaction to it as I look back now is similar to a friend's reaction whenever she hears the word mouse.

I thought then a draft was some sort of a creepy, scuttling animal. It was only when I was old enough to read that I looked up the word "draft" in Webster's. Boy, was I surprised.

I have learned since then that the fear of being in a draft has some unusual superstitions. Southern folk believe that a draft is really an evil spirit. The antidote for this spirit is to cross yourself, and without speaking, hold your breath and walk through the drafty air itself — whether it be a hot, warm or cold draft.

But good old emperor Kublai Khan, (1254-1323 era), who incidentally founded the Mongol Dynasty of China, stated that "drafty spirits" controlled the weather. (This I believe, because it seems that every time I plan on going away for the weekend, the beautiful weather that California has had all week suddenly changes to overcast and sometimes rainy.)

Khan was smart, though. He employed astrologers and magicians who were on good terms with "drafts." As long as these employees walked in his shadow, Khan could expect good weather. But if one just happened to fall out of step, Khan unhappily would reach for his umbrella.

As far as catching cold in a draft, well, that is believed by many people just to be superstition. I mean, last summer when it was so hot, what did I do to cool off? Stood in front of my refrigerator and I did not catch a cold — and that was a cold draft. But then again, one never knows, and since I cannot afford an astrologer or magician, perhaps, I should get into the habit of carrying an umbrella. At least now I won't have to feel ridiculous jumping on a chair over a draft.

Gary Wesser designs poster

A limited edition poster designed by local artist Gary Wesser, featuring a sketch of the historic Green Hotel in Pasadena, is being distributed by the Pasadena and Foothill Chapters of the American Institute of Architects and the Women's Architectural League to announce a May 30 event.

Winners of their design awards competition will be honored at a reception at the Green Hotel featuring color slides of the work of all the nominees. A dinner-dance will follow in celebration of the Pasadena Centennial.

At a recent A.I.A. meeting, competition chairman James G. Spencer and his committee announced the award winners. The Award of Honor will be presented to CHCG Architects of Montclair for the President's Suite at the Southern California College of Optometry, which was cited for being exquisitely detailed, including "inventive use of pivoted glass dividers and other space definers." Also receiving the Award of Honor was Group Arcon for what was called the "sensitive restoration" of the James Oviatt Building in downtown Los Angeles.

Reservation information concerning the May 30 reception and dinner-dance is available from the chapter office: (818) 796-7601.

WETCLEANING
By Joe Delgatto
In exceptional cases, the best thing a drycleaner can do for your clothes is to wash them. He calls it "wetcleaning," though, and it is not the same as home machine washing.
Your drycleaner knows that some stains are best removed with water, and some by chemical solvents. If a garment you bring in contains large, or many, water-soluble stains — ink, blood or perspiration, for example — washing is the best way to get them out. White garments that need bleaching must be wetcleaned.
A garment heavily soiled when wet can best be restored by wetcleaning, because washing will swell the fibers; solvents won't. When fibers swll, as they did when first wet, they release the dirt that became embedded in the fabric as it dried.
In wetcleaning, a garment is soaked and brushed (never agitated) in a container of water and a mild detergent. The most important thing about the process is that it is adjusted for each fabric: temperature of the water, length of time soaking, type of brush.
Pantorium Cleaners will suggest wetcleaning (in addition to drycleaning) to you if we feel it would be helpful. We will always ask for your permission before doing any wetcleaning.

Plastic surgeon, portrait painter meet

Portraits stand the test of time

In September a portrait will appear at the home of Dr. Alex Villicana. It will not be a finished portrait because Villicana must be comfortable with it before the portrait painter, Richard Stone, completes the final three-quarter view 50 by 40 inches portrait.

One thing Villicana knows for sure: it will be an excellent portrait. After all, Stone has painted several members of the British Royalty, including the Queen Mother who sat for a portrait specifically for Stone to bring to the United States.

Stone left Wednesday with several sketch pads and copious notes to help him prepare the many commissions he has collected in Southern California the three weeks of his first trip to America. This fall he will bring "oil studies" back to his clients so he can complete the final full-size commissions at a later date.

Villicana and Stone have in common the innate ability to "see through" their clients; one is a plastic surgeon and the other is a portrait painter. They are used to dealing with the shape of noses, eyes, the color of skin. And they have worked well together, Villicana as the first person who ordered a portrait from Stone and Stone dealing with his first client in the United States.

Why did Villicana decide on a three-quarter-length portrait for his home? "Ego," he says with a smile. Actually, he saw photos of Stone's work at the home of mutual friends, Dr. Dan and Adele McGann in Sierra Madre.

When they first met, Villicana asked Stone if he could work from photos since the only record he had of his grandfather was one photo. Unfortunately, the photo was too small.

"That simply made him realize the importance of having a family portrait," Stone explains.

The first session between painter and subject is an exchange of ideas: What does the sitter want? Where should the portrait be hung? A decision that the doctor should appear in a business suit filled the first need. A tour of the home revealed to Stone where the portrait should be hung, taking into consideration the size of the wall and the amount of light that is available. Stone explains that a business suit "stands the test of time and shows the doctor as a familiar image, the head of the family."

Villicana was first sketched before Channel 2 news cameras and four sittings have followed. Each sitting is an hour long and about five hours of sketches are needed before the brush touches the canvas.

Chatting through settings is imperative to relax both the sitter and the painter.

One or two oil studies in full color, highly detailed, follow. Each oil study takes a full week or about five full days.

"All the colors are important to make the real picture," Stone says. "They must be nice to look at and tell as much a story as a novel."

In September when Stone returns with his work, Dr. Villicana will view what his own patients view: the final artistic rendition of his face. Stone is, in effect, turning the tables on the plastic surgeon.

To Temecula for winetasting tours

Here in Southern California is where the legend of California wines began, when Father Junipero Serra planted the first vines at Mission San Diego around 1769. Some 14 wineries now flourish in three main areas: Cucamonga, Temecula and Escondido, with a single winery in Los Angeles City itself. We opted for Temecula for our first sorte.

En route we stopped at Brookside Vineyard in Guasti. This is part of the Cucamonga district, not Temecula, but we couldn't resist it. Located just off the San Bernardino Freeway, adjoining Ontario Airport on the north, the winery dates back to the 1880s and, prior to Prohibition, boasted of its position as the biggest winery in the world.

In the gracious old stone tasting room covered with vines, a large selection of wines and spirits is matched by a deli where cheeses, breads, olives, sausages and other accompaniments to aperitifs abound.

At the wine-tasting counter a wine check list was supplied and, as we counted the seemingly endless selections, we found that a truly devoted taster could sample no less than 81 different table, dessert and sparkling wines, as well as 10 Gibson and Tahiti Joe mixes, brandies and creme sherries. Obviously, Brookside could serve handsomely as an entire wine-tasting tour in itself.

We sampled three or four each, including one intriguing one called Guasti Chocolate, which tasted more like almond paste to our palate.

We settled on a bottle of Johannisberg Reisling, along with cheese and crackers, for a picnic outside under old shade trees where we could admire the planes parading back and forth on Ontario's runways.

Brookside also includes a restaurant, La Villa Guasti, open Monday through Friday, with excellent Mexican fare. Alas, it was closed on our weekend tour.

Taking I-15 southward, we turned off on Rancho California Road, just short of Temecula, amidst browning hills, alternating with orange groves and vineyards, to our first stop, the Callaway Vineyard & Winery.

Built atop a hill, the winery affords a generous view of the surrounding country from its attractive courtyard. Dating back only to 1969, the winery exemplifies the commendable new wines produced by the half dozen young wineries in this area.

A lecture accompanied the tasting at Callaway, with a $1 admission charge. Here we learned several new terms, including "vinified by," to add to our Northern California label vocabulary of "made & bottled by," "cellared & bottled by" and "vinted & bottled by" — our education was expanding. We also added "nose" and "flavor" to "aroma" and "bouquet," and found that taste could vary from fruity and nutty to herbaceous and grassy.

Whatever the nomenclature, we agreed the wines were most agreeable.

Our next stop was the Mesa Verde Vineyards, still in the process of completing its Mission-style buildings, followed by the Filsinger Vineyards & Winery, where the Filsingers themselves served as our hosts.

The final visit was made at the Mt. Palomar Winery, on our return from the loop trip. Here more delicatessen items caught our eye for munching on the way home. The wines at all three wineries were, we agreed, delicious and we purchased several bottles at each to supplement our expanding "cellars" at home.

We made our return trip through Hemet and enjoyed bucolic scenes of sheep grazing on the hills and horses cantering about their fields, as well as more lively scenes with sky divers and odd ultra-lights soaring colorfully about their skyways.

The tour, we voted unanimously, was worth recommending to our readers — a relaxing, enjoyable and educational day's outing.

An appeal, warning . . . and eulogy

By Patty and Jack Groteweil

A cruel sadist roams at large in the upper canyon (Marlborough Terrace) of Sierra Madre. We are talking about a person heartless enough to shoot a friendly dog in the abdomen with a bullet that fragmented upon contact and let the dog lie there in agony.

We hear shots in our neighborhood occasionally, unnerving sounds, but strangely that morning no one heard a shot. This killer probably used a silencer, a fact which suggests premeditation, not accident nor self defense.

Our beautiful young black German shepherd suffered and died on the operating table. We are suffering and crying over the loss of something that filled our lives with love and joy and devotion. Our children are grown and gone and Gretta was our "only child" and constant companion.

Whoever killed her did so as a random, wanton act. There could not have been a grudge. Our neighbors liked her; many have come by in sympathy. She never disturbed anyone by barking. She slept inside by our bed and went to Jack's office with him every day. She went on vacations and even errands with us.

She never bit anyone nor another animal. In fact, she liked to play with other dogs, a predeliction which may have led to her death.

On Friday morning, May 2, about 5:30, she, wanting to out, awakened us. Her eagerness suggested one of her friends was waiting outside. Usually she stayed in our yard and within minutes was back at the door wanting in.

Friday, she must have run down the hill a short distance with her playmate. Between that time and 6:30, when she was first seen lying at the foot of Fern Lane, she had been shot.

Every dog is special to the person who loves it, but our Gretta was superlatively special. First, her breeding was top quality. Her mother is Zsa Zsa Gabor's champion show dog. Miss Gabor imported the father, likewise, a purebred champion, from Germany. Gretta's littermates were sold at sizeable prices, but Miss Gabor kept the little black one, her favorite.

Because another litter was imminent and Miss Gabor, a noted animal lover, was facing the problem of too many dogs, she, having been assured of our love and care for animals, entrusted her, then 7-month-old Gretta to us. We only had her one year and three months.

Second, her disposition was special. She was the perfect pet — always happy, eager to please, obedient and playful. Her personality captivated all who met her.

Therefore, killer, if you read this, know the consequences to us of your wantoness and be aware the shooting at anything could be disastrous. A bullet, whatever its target could miss, ricochet and injure, maybe kill a child — there are many in our neighborhood.

Furthermore, neighbors of Marlborough Terrace, if you saw anyone either who could be possibly responsible for the killing or anyone who could provide information about that person on Churchill Dr. between 5:30 and 6:30 a.m. on Friday, May 2, or if you heard anything that could be related, please give the information to us and/or the police.

Above all, be alert and guard your pets and children.

On Stage

By Mary Cogswell Baum

I don't know what the royalties are for "Something's Afoot," the musical mystery currently running at the Pasadena Theater Company at 1406 Lake Ave., but I hope they aren't much. Beverly Bishop is imaginative at directing musicals and there are some attractive, well-cast people in it. There are also a few solid laughs.

But, as played, this spoof of "Ten Little Indians-type murder mystery" is very heavy handed, the music is irrelevant and the lyrics are witless. The actors do what they can.

Lynda Thackray is an accomplished clown as the maid, Mary Margaret Patts has the best singing voice as the love interest and Marc Jordan has a wonderfully evil smile. Kelly Diana Perry is a fine figure of a mystery woman and Scott Morris is an attractive young stranger.

Others in the cast are John Marshall Fooks, Ray Rodriguez, Jim Anderson, Peter Thomas Ambrose and Toni Perrine. As usual in a Bishop production, everybody looks exactly right. 'Something's Afoot" runs through May 31, Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. Phone 797-6384 for information.

On the other hand, "The Knack," which has three more performances in Pasadena City College's Little Theater, isn't everybody's cup of tea, but it's done quite brilliantly, considering the difficulty of this kind of comedy. It is a mad English farce about Colin, who wants to learn just how Tolen picks up girls so successfully, Tom, who cheers them on, and Nancy who provides someone to practice on.

Director Bruce Gill's students carry on the acrobatic, rapid-fire absurdity with the speed and assurance this kind of stuff demands. Bennie Hill fans will love it. Others may find a good case of the sillies is a prerequisite. Jeffrey Niems is a deftly-played Tom, who observes and advises, Adam Krachman is the impossibly-naive Colin and if Richard Norgen as Tolen isn't very appealing, it's mostly the part. Dianna Mehler, in a role written for Diana Dors, is the ultimate dumb blond and her girlish giggling and wiggling are expert.

"The Knack" will be on stage again on May 16 at 8 and May 17 at 3 and 8. For information call 578-7485.

For something to take the kids to, Theater Americana opens an original melodrama, May 16 at 8. Try 798-7423.

Lukenbill opposes Block in election

Lance Lukenbill, candidate for sheriff of Los Angeles County, told The News he is running to "present criteria by which the apparent failure of Sherman Block as sheriff may be weighed — weighed against the safety of our children and the ones we love."

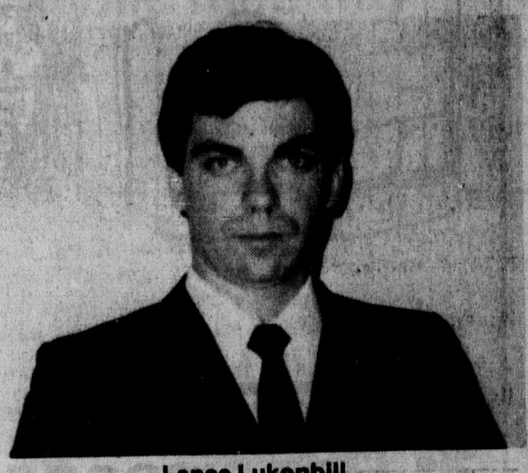

Lukenbill, a Southern California native who lives in Pasadena, says that 87% of the voters don't know who is sheriff. "Chief Gates visibly leads the Los Angeles Police Dept. Have you seen the sheriff on television during the past four years? . . . What the sheriff's department and the citizens of this county need is a sheriff. Under my administration leadership will be provided."

Lukenbill says Block has "cut the budget supporting patrol of our streets by $40 million. He's got a revolving door on his jail house. It seems that as soon as criminals are booked, they're released. Sherman Block's answer to overcrowded jails is to release even more criminals into our communities . . . Upon assuming the duties of sheriff, I will restore millions for increased patrol of our streets. I will build a jailhouse big enough to keep criminals in jail where they belong, away from our children and the ones we love."

The candidate charges that Block's $380 million budget "is laced with costly inefficient bureaucratic procedure . . . Upon my election I intend to put an end to waste. With the assistance of Jack O'Connell and Peter Grace, I will immediately appoint a commission to see that the sheriff's department stops wasting millions of dollars on inefficient procedure. I will personally see that every dollar saved through elimination of wasteful procedure goes directly to increased patrol and field activities as well as the construction of proper jail facilities."

Lukenbill would like to challenge Block to a public debate. "On behalf of all concerned citizens, I welcome an explanation of his policies which seem to have progressively endangered our county through support of the criminal element increasingly roaming our streets."

Lukenbill is married and has three children, is a businessman in Pasadena. He urges anyone who wishes to send in contributions to call him at 795-9196.

mended approval of an application for the 1985-86 allocation of the Robeti-Z'Berg-Harris Block Grant to improve and level the right field of Dapper Field. Allocation for one year is $5226. The city would need to match 25% which amounts to $1742.

A public hearing is set for May 27 to discuss the appeal of the Planning Commission action of Apr. 17. the decision concerns a variance for street frontage in lieu of a 16-ft. easement and a lot split at 500 N. Michaillinda.

The council plans to adjourn to May 20, 5 p.m.

Foot Health Month scheduled for May

With May set aside as Foot Health Month, many foot problems are outlined as the reasons employees with those problems do not function as well as others with healthy feet.

Podiatrists say hurting feet can affect an individual physically, mentally and emotionally. It is difficult to do the best work possible or fully enjoy leisure time with aching feet.

There are a few suggestions to assist everyone to keep his or her best foot forward. Podiatrists urge everyone to keep feet clean. Using foot powder can inhibit fungus infections.

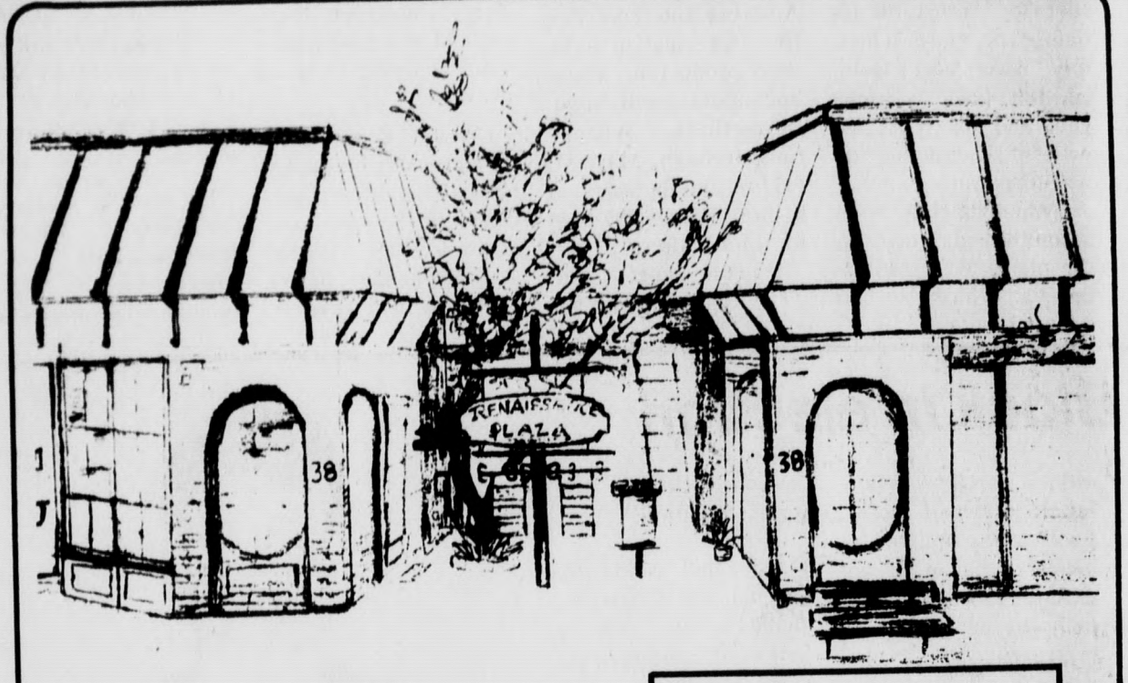

Socks or stockings should not bind toes, and shoes should fit properly.

Just as important is not putting off getting professional care for an injury that does not heal properly or for pain that persists.

Heel pain is one that can put many people under. Heel spurs are a painful calcium deposits at the bottom of the heel bone. They can develop in people who wear ill-fitting or worn shoes, exercise on hard surfaces, or suddenly increase their training routines.

The American Podiatric Medical Association recommends that runners train on grass rather than concrete. Those who enjoy dance-oriented exercies should look for classes that offer a sprung hardwood floor or padded carpeting.

As the association quips "Healthy feet can keep you a step ahead."

LASER COMPANY MAKES PRESENTATION TO ADOPTED SCHOOL — Volunteers from Loral-Electro-Optical visited their adopted school, Don Benito, Monday and showed children experiments concerning the laser. Shown are Pasadena Unified School District Superintendent Philip Jordan, volunteer Beverly Morales, Don Benito School Principal Anna Mary Hession, Barbara Hardy and Chris Varney, both volunteers at the company. Also present were representatives from the PCC laser unit, co-adopters with Loral.

'Older Americans' invited to Field Day

Methodist Hospital, Arcadia took Senator Pete Wilson's admonition to highlight during May, "Older American's Month," the importance of having specific areas where the varying needs of the older adult could be met by staging a two-day event "Field Day For Seniors, covering all the health care bases."

Highlight each day will be the arrival, in grand style, of Lenore Woodward, alias the "Little Old Lady from Pasadena," who will dust off her tennies and do a sprint into the event at 1 p.m. Wednesday and 10 a.m. Thursday. On Wednesday, Lenore was to arrive in a 1929 "Woody" owned by Butch and Betty Johnson of Arcadia and on Thursday (today), Jerry Hunter of Arcadia will drive her to the site in his 1930 coupe with a rumble seat. Sharing the honors on Thursday will be Arcadia's just named Senior of the Year, Evelyn Hooten.

The Senior Field Day is scheduled from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., Wednesday and Thursday on the hospital grounds.

Generous assistance is being provided by 15 service areas within the hospital, over 30 hospital volunteers, the Arcadia Junior Womans' Club, the Civitans, Arcadia Police Department, the Gladiola Society, Nordstrom's and Rona Livingston's flower designs.

Other participants include Budril Kurwa, MD and Harold Ward, MD ophthalmologist; Erin Walker, MD, dermatologist; the San Gabriel Valley Dental Society; Tim Calams, MA, CCC-A, audiologist; Constance Orozoco, Legal Service Program attorney; Methodist Hospital nurses, representative from MAP.

For additional information call (818) 574-3434.

FACS plans public meeting

Foothill Area Community Services (FACS) will hold a public meeting Wednesday, May 21, 2 p.m. at the Sierra Madre City Council Chambers, according to Matthew Jenkins who is in charge of planning and grants.

This is an annual public hearing addressing the needs assessment of the communities involved. Matthews says they ask the public to make known their concerns for needed human services.

Cities impacted in this area are Altadena, Arcadia, Duarte, Monrovia, Sierra Madre, Pasadena and South Pasadena.

These public hearings are placed throughout the seven-city area and are for the communities at large.

POSTAL JOBS
CLERK & CARRIER POSITIONS
($9.48/hr to start)
Special announcement for all candidates planning to sign up for the Clerk-Carrier Examination at the Arcadia Post Office as well as many other Post Offices in the 910 Zip Code Area when it is announced. [Last given in 1983 — and since it won't be offered again for at least 3 years, don't miss out!]
4-HOUR WORKSHOP
Score 95-100% or Your Tuition is Refunded!
NOW is the time to prepare. The pressure is on to score as high as possible to get the job. Career Postal Workers will now earn a starting salary of $18,532 plus benefits — with an accelerated step increase plan; men and women, regardless of age, are eligible. The first step toward a postal service career is getting your name onto the "Register of Eligibles," which is accomplished by passing this Exam. To be one of the first hired, you need to get one of the higher scores! And to be hired at all during the next three years, you will need to score at least 95%. This workshop is being offered now, prior to the formal announcement of the examination dates, to give you adequate time to prepare for the test. Many post offices begin testing within a week of the announcement which isn't enough time to prepare properly. By starting now, you'll be ready to attain high scores using our methods when the test is given.
Come to the workshop. If you don't feel, at the end of the course, that it will help you achieve a score of 95% or better, don't pay for the workshop! Furthermore, if your score is less than 95% on the official exam after using our techniques, we will immediately refund your tuition in full!
WANT TO RELOCATE? We are the publishers of The Postal Alert, the bi-weekly newsletter giving you postal exam dates nationwide. Only The Achievement Center provides this service. Learn how you can relocate to any area of the country you like.
★ You are invited to bring your tape recorder to record the workshop for personal exam review.
★ You may attend as many extra sessions of the workshop as you like (on a space available basis) without additional tuition charge.
WORKSHOP TUITION — $40 (Includes guaranteed 4-hour Workshop, The Corey Guide to Postal Exams [with 6 complete practice tests], a Sample Exam with Answers, Workshop Workbook, "12 Important Steps for Getting Hired into the U.S. Postal Service" Booklet, Follow-Up Consultation Privileges, Achievement Award to High-Scorers and Practice Kit containing Six Additional Practice Exams with Answers, Memory Test Flash Cards, "Simulated Exam" on cassette tape, and ANNOUNCEMENT WITH SIGN-UP DATES MAILED TO YOUR HOME). Please bring two sharpened No. 2 pencils with you to the Workshop.
Seating is limited; pre-registration by phone is advised. Otherwise, you may register by arriving thirty minutes early. Tuition is payable at the door by cash, check, money order, MasterCard, VISA or American Express.

"I received a 100% score and I owe it all to you! Thank you for offering such services. It truly is a wonderful learning experience." J.E., Rio Nida, CA

There are many things in life which you cannot be sure: the weather, the economy, the buses running on schedule, some people, your health, your friends, the hour of your death.

However, you can be sure that one day you too will stand before the judgment bar of a holy and just God. You ought to take time to think seriously about your soul's salvation and ask yourself: "Can I be sure that I am going to heaven?"

If you can't be sure, you have only yourself to blame. You see, our loving God has offered eternal life to everyone! Jesus said, "My Father's will is that everyone who looks to the Son and believes in Him shall have eternal life and I will raise him up at the last day." We warmly invite you to come and learn about Jesus, your Savior and the blessings He has in store for you and your family. You can be sure!

SSI checks have a new design

Local residents who get Supplemental Security Income (SSI) checks are seeing a new style check in their mailboxes as of Apr. 1, Joann Hughes, Social Security manager in Arcadia, said recently. The check is multi-colored and comes in a new, blue envelope.

SSI recipients will no longer get the familiar gold punchcard check, Hughes said. The new check is as good as the old one, however, and just as easy to cash.

The new checks show a full-length replica of the Statue of Liberty on the left side. A muted close-up of her head and torch is in the background near the right side.

SS office moves to Arcadia

The Social Security office previously located in Monrovia, has moved to 301 E. Foothill Blvd., Suite 101, Arcadia.

The office continues to provide telephone service and appointments for claims interviews. To schedule an appointment for filing a claim, call (818) 303-5213. For other business, call (818) 575-7963.

Stephens joins Pittsburgh Steelers

Mark Stephens, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stephens of Arcadia, has joined the Pittsburgh Steelers as a free agent and leaves this weekend for the Steelers' Mini-Camp in Pittsburgh for two weeks.

Stephens had bids from the Seattle Sea Hawks, Green Bay Packers and Dallas Cowboys but decided for the Steelers, his father reports. The athlete graduates this week from UC Berkeley where he was captain of the Cal football team last year. His major is in school economics.

After two weeks at camp, Stephens returns to his Arcadia home for six weeks then leaves for Steelers' training camp in Pennsylvania July 19. He is an offensive tackle, is 6 ft. 5½ in. and weighs 283 lbs.

At Arcadia High School he was offensive tackle on the football team, also. He was valedictorian and student representative to the school board. At Cal, Stephens was 1st string on the All Pac-10, the Pacific Coast Conference and was 2nd string Academic All-American which encompasses the entire nation.

He was offered a $5000-per-year scholarship to attend graduate school at Cal Berkeley for two years but opted to play with the Steelers instead.

Stephens' father played football as a freshman at USC. Mark's four older brothers, all married, played football at Arcadia High, also. They include Craig, San Francisco; Jeffrey of Pasadena; David of Camarillo and John of Monrovia.

Tom Stephens told The News, "I am very happy for him. He is also an excellent student."
